Prizes Offered for New Roses

A PRIZE of $1000 is offered for a new white or light-colored rose, and will be awarded by a committee consisting of Leonard Barron, of New York, Dr. S. S. Sulliger, of Tacoma, Washington, and Dr. J. Horace McFarland, of Harrisburg, Pa. Complete details may be obtained from the Secretary.

The late John Cook, of Baltimore, donated $500 to the Society, the income of which is to provide a medal which is to be awarded every three years to a garden rose and a greenhouse rose alternately. It was awarded in 1929 to Pedro Dot for Mme. Grégoire Staechelin.

House & Garden, of New York, offers an American Rose Society's Gold Medal, to be awarded by the Society's Executive Committee for the best new and undisseminated hardy climbing rose originated in America, and found to be distinct and worthy according to the rules of the Society.

Miss Carrie Harrison, of Washington, D. C., offers an American Rose Society's Gold Medal, to be awarded by the Society's Executive Committee for the best new and undisseminated yellow Hybrid Tea rose originated by an American woman, and found to be distinct and worthy according to the Society's rules.

An American Rose Society's Silver Medal, the gift of the late Mrs. Adele Feast-Guthridge, of Washington, D. C., is to be awarded by the Society's Executive Committee for the best new and undisseminated white Hybrid Tea rose originated by an American woman, and found to be distinct and worthy according to the rules of the Society.

Mrs. Bertha Gearneux Woods, through Miss Carrie Harrison, Washington, D. C., offers an American Rose Society's Silver Medal, to be awarded by the Society's Executive Committee for the production, by an undergraduate of a collegiate institution, of a rose that will stand the test as a "dooryard" rose of the Dr. Van Fleet type.

Mrs. Dr. W. Van Fleet also offers an award of $50, available to the Society for the promotion of the breeding of better hardy roses.

The Gertrude M. Hubbard Gold Medal is awarded every five years to the raiser or originator of the best American rose disseminated within the previous five years. It was awarded in 1914 to M. H. Walsh for Excelsa, in 1919 to E. G. Hill for Columbia, in 1924 to Capt. George C. Thomas, Jr., for Dr. Huey, and in 1929 to The Montgomery Co. for Talisman. It has been recognized as the highest American rose honor.

The Nicholson Challenge Bowl, which was illustrated and described in the Handbook for 1925, was donated to the American Rose Society by Mr. R. A. Nicholson, formerly of Hong Kong. Owing to the very different rose conditions existing in this country, it has been found impracticable to award the Nicholson Bowl as was first intended.

Feast-Guthridge Silver Medal to be awarded to the creator of a hardy dooryard rose with the wild rose, Rosa setigera, as one of the seed parents; presented by Miss Marian Jardine, on behalf of a number of friends of the late Mrs. Adele Giannini Feast-Guthridge and as a memorial to her.

A Prize of $1000, to be awarded every three years, is offered for a new rose by Capt. George C. Thomas, Jr., of Beverly Hills, Calif., under the following conditions:

1. The rose must be produced by an amateur, for the prize is being offered to encourage hybridization among amateur rosarians.

2. The rose must be a distinct improvement on anything in cultivation. In other words, there is little value to the rose world in having one more average seedling produced.

3. It would not seem necessary to have entries tested, but they should be introduced and after their introduction the record they make would entitle them to consideration. Anything that seems of sufficient value will be tested in the Thomas garden.

4. This award would be made by Captain Thomas. In conferring it, he would consider the record of the rose throughout the country, and would consult with the American Rose Society regarding the award, as well as judge by the performance of the variety in his own garden.

W. G. Ladd, Washington, D. C., offers, on behalf of some of the members of the Iowa Society in Washington, D. C., a gold medal for a new fragrant white rose hardy enough to be grown in all the dooryards of Iowa.

David Fuerstenberg $1000 Trust Fund. The entire income to be used to offer annually a money prize equal to such annual income and known as the "David Fuerstenberg Prize" for the cultivation and production in the United States of America of any new rose suitable to our American climate and which may be deemed worthy of the award by the American Rose Society. If no such rose be produced in any year, the income for that year shall accumulate and be offered with the income for the next or subsequent years, either in the form of one money prize of larger amount or in two or more separate prizes, according to the sound discretion of said American Rose Society.

Woman's Home Companion offers an award of $1000 for the greatest improvement in any Municipal Rose Garden between May, 1931 and October, 1932. See article on Municipal Rose Garden competition in the 1931 American Rose Annual, page 20.

The Allan Enthusiast Medal

BECAUSE he believes in the value of organized rose effort, and because his visit to the United States last summer convinced him that the American Rose Society is "on the job," Mr. James Allan, President of the National Rose Society of New South Wales, Australia, sends us the subjoined announcement, which we hope will "start something."

The JAMES ALLAN ENTHUSIAST MEDAL

Presented to the American Rose Society by James Allan, President of the National Rose Society of New South Wales, Australia

TO BE AWARDED TO

The Member of the American Rose Society who gains the most members for the Society during 1931

Send all new names with full address to Robert Pyle, Secretary, The American Rose Society, West Grove, Pa.

Correction

Certain errors which appear in "The Proof of the Pudding" in the 1930 American Rose Annual relative to seedlings originated by Capt. George C. Thomas, Jr., are corrected as follows, with apologies:

Bloomfield Comet was introduced by Bobbink & Atkins in 1929, not five years ago. This rose was selected by the late Jesse Currey of Portland on account of its success in that section, and Capt. Thomas is giving all royalties from this rose to the Portland Rose Society. Bloomfield Comet has done well in the Pacific Northwest and in California.

Bloomfield Decoration and Bloomfield Perfection were introduced by Bobbink & Atkins in 1927, not in 1924 as stated. Both these roses have done exceptionally well in California.

The statement in the 1930 American Rose Annual that Bloomfield Exquisite, Bloomfield Dainty and Mrs. George C. Thomas have received but one or two enthusiastic reports should be supplemented by the facts that Mrs. George C. Thomas won the Portland Gold Medal for the highest score in 1921 and has done exceptionally well in that district, also in California. Bloomfield Dainty has made a very fine record in California. Bloomfield Exquisite was introduced by Howard & Smith in 1928, not in 1924.

Bloomfield Success, quoted on page 195 as having been introduced in 1929, was not introduced at all, but was sent to the East for test.

Executive Committee Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held in Harrisburg, Pa., at 6 P.M., January 20, 1931.

Present were Dr. J. Horace McFarland, President and Editor; S. S. Pennock, Treasurer; Robert Pyle, Secretary; and, by invitation, Robert Simpson, Chairman of the Registration Committee.

The Committee confirmed the appointment of the following persons to serve on the Committee on Old Roses: Stephen F. Hamblin, Lexington, Mass., Chairman; Mrs. Francis King, South Hartford, N. Y.; Mrs. H. Prentiss Nichols, Germantown, Pa.; Mrs. Frederick L. Keays, Great Neck, L. I., N. Y.; Mrs. Marion M. Page, Mason City, Iowa; and Mrs. Nellie B. Allen, New York City.

Mr. J. H. Nicolas' appointment to fill the vacancy on the Registration Committee caused by the death of F. L. Atkins, was approved.

The Secretary reported that the President, Dr. J. Horace McFarland, had been designated by him as the Society's representative on the Board of Directors of the Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists.

New rules for nomenclature and the registration of roses were adopted, and are printed in full in the Quarterly, on pages 13–14.

The Secretary was instructed to write to the firm of D. Prior & Son, Ltd., pointing out the priority of Pedro Dot in his use of the name Rosella for a rose.

It was decided by the Committee to offer the new primer "What Every Rose-Grower Should Know" to tradesmen at rates to be later determined.

The Committee agreed that $10 would be accepted for three years' membership in the Society.

The Secretary reported receiving an invitation to the Society to participate in the dedication of the new Municipal Rose Garden in Durand-Eastman Park, Rochester, N. Y., by the Rochester Rose Society. He was instructed to accept the invitation contingent upon lack of interference with plans already made for the 1931 annual meeting at Syracuse.

The President reported a proposition from the Woman's Home Companion for the American Rose Society to sponsor an award of $1000 for the greatest improvement in any Municipal Rose Garden between May, 1931, and October, 1932.

ROBERT PYLE, Secretary

San José Municipal Rose Garden Begun

As we rush to press comes word from Mrs. Fremont Older, that the first shovelful of dirt for the new 5½-acre Municipal Rose Garden of San José, California, will be turned by President J. Horace McFarland on April 4. Dr. McFarland departed for California on March 15 for a few weeks' tour of California, during which he hopes to visit many gardens, see wonderful roses, and meet the rose people of the Golden State.

Nomenclature and Registration

To these important subjects much attention has been given at various meetings of the Trustees and the Executive Committee of the American Rose Society. The revised regulations which follow are believed to clarify the situation and to tend toward fairness and simplification.

Nomenclature

1. Rules Adopted.—Realizing the great confusion and inconvenience that arises from duplication of names, and recognizing the great convenience and satisfaction of simple, usable names, the American Rose Society adopts the following rules of nomenclature to apply to the names used in all the publications of this Society and at its exhibitions, and at exhibitions to which it contributes medals.

2. Priority.—No two varieties of roses shall bear the same name. The name first published shall be the accepted and recognized one, except in cases where the name has been applied in violation of this code.

3. Publication.—Publication consists (1) in registration with the American Rose Society; or (2) in distribution of a printed description of the variety named, giving the distinguishing characters of flower, foliage, plant, etc.; or (3) in publication of a new name for a variety that is properly described elsewhere, such publication to be made in any book, bulletin, report, trade catalogue, or periodical, provided the issue bears the date of its publication and is generally distributed among rose-growers, florists, nurserymen, and horticulturists; or (4) in certain cases the general recognition of a name for a variety propagated in a community for a number of years, shall constitute publication of that name.

4. Citation.—In the full and formal citation of a variety name, the name of the originator or introducer who first published or exhibited it shall also be given.

5. Revision.—No properly published variety name shall be changed for any reason except confliction with this code, and another variety shall not be substituted for the one originally described thereunder. Necessary changes to conform to the provisions of this code shall be recommended by the Committee on Nomenclature and adopted by vote of the Executive Committee before being officially recognized.

6. Naming.—No variety should be named unless it is distinctly superior to existing varieties in some important characteristic, and not until it has been determined to disseminate it.

7. In selecting names, the following points should be emphasized: distinctiveness, simplicity, ease of pronunciation and spelling, indication of origin or parentage.

8. When it is expedient, white, red, double, and similar words may be used as part of a name, but not such words as seedling, hybrid, or sport.

9. The spelling and pronunciation of variety names derived from personal or geographical names shall be governed by the same rules that control the spelling and pronunciation of the words from which they are derived.

10. A variety imported from a foreign country shall retain its foreign name, without translation.

11. The name of a living person should not be applied to a rose without his expressed consent. The name of a deceased horticulturist should not be so applied except with the consent of the heirs.

12. The use of a Latinized name for a variety, cross, or hybrid is not admissible.

13. The use of a number, either alone or attached to a word, should be considered only a temporary expedient while the variety is undergoing preliminary test.

14. In applying the provisions of these rules to an existing variety name that has, through long usage, become firmly embedded in American floricultural literature, no change shall be made which will involve loss of identity.

15. The paramount right of the originator, discoverer, or introducer of a new variety to name it within the limitations of this code is recognized and emphasized.

16. Where a variety name, through long usage, has become thoroughly established in American floricultural literature for two or more varieties, it should not be displaced, or radically modified for either variety, except in cases where a well-known synonym can be advanced to the position of leading name. Several varieties bearing such identical names should be distinguished from each other by adding the name of the originator or introducer of each sort, or by adding some other suitable distinguishing term that will insure their identity in catalogues or discussions.

17. Existing American names of varieties which conflict with earlier published foreign names of the same or other varieties, but which have become thoroughly established through long usage, shall not be displaced.

18. Enforcement.—The Secretary shall withhold registration of any name which does not conform to these rules, or which has not been approved by the Registration Committee, or against which objection has been sustained by any of the rose organizations named in Rule 24. The Secretary and the Editor of the American Rose Society are empowered and directed to carry out these rules in all literature issued by the Society.

Registration of Rose Names

19. Registration of new roses by the American Rose Society is intended to make effective the rules of nomenclature previously stated.

20. Registration is given equally to seedlings and to sports, always and only when the origin, if known, is stated in the application.

21. Registration may be undertaken by filing with the Secretary of the American Rose Society an application in the following form prescribed by Rule 26.

22. Members of the American Rose Society may register roses without charge. From others a fee of $3.50 for each variety is required with the application. The money will be returned if registration is refused.

23. The Secretary's office shall refer the application for registration to the Registration Committee and publish it in one or more horticultural publications, with notice that objections to be effective must be filed with the Secretary of the Society within six weeks of such publication. If no objection is received, registration may then become permanent. In the event of objection to registration, decision will rest with the Executive Committee of the Trustees of the American Rose Society.

24. Notice of proposed registration will be communicated immediately by the Secretary to the National Rose Societies of England, New South Wales, Victoria, and South Australia, the Société Française des Rosiéristes, Nos Jungunt Rosæ, and Verein Deutscher Rosenfreunde, in coöperative endeavor to protect rose names, and to improve the standard of value for new roses.

25. The Registration Committee may, at its option, request that, if possible, the rose offered for registration shall be seen in bloom by one or more of its members.

26. Roses offered for registration must be described by the applicant on the blank form supplied by the Secretary for use in applying for registration, and also on the standard record card for the Society's file. These cards are printed in English and in French, and are supplied free upon application to the Secretary.

Rules Governing Awards of Medals and Certificates

I. For Competitors who are Professional Rose-growers, upon Scale of Points as below.

A GOLD MEDAL may be awarded for the best new seedling rose not yet disseminated,* whether of domestic or foreign origin, which scores not less than 90 points, judged upon the official scale of the Society and in accordance with the rules of the Society. No rose of American origin shall be eligible to receive a Gold Medal of the American Rose Society unless the rose has been duly registered with the Society.

A SILVER MEDAL may be awarded for a meritorious sport or for a new seedling rose scoring not less than 85 points under the same condition.

A BRONZE MEDAL may be awarded for a new seedling or for a meritorious sport scoring not less than 80 points.

A CERTIFICATE OF MERIT may be awarded for a new seedling scoring not less than 80 points.

Any exhibit competing for the Society's Medals or Certificates must include at least twelve blooms.

The complete scores of all the entries in the competition must be filed with the Secretary of the American Rose Society before the award of any medal is confirmed. No duplicate medal will be awarded. It is understood that though the award of the Gold Medal or Silver Medal or Bronze Medal may be made to the same variety from one exhibitor, exhibited in different centers, only one medal will be delivered to the exhibitor.

The Executive Committee of the American Rose Society reserves to itself the right of selection of the judges who shall pass upon the exhibits in the competition for these prizes.

The American Rose Society rules and scale of points for judging as printed below must govern all displays competing for American Rose Society awards.

All correspondence regarding exhibitions, etc., should be addressed to the American Rose Society, West Grove, Pa.

SCALE OF POINTS FOR COMMERCIAL EXHIBITS

In judging Novelties for American Rose Society Awards.—Size, 10; color, 20; stem, 15; form, 15; substance, 10; foliage, 15; fragrance, 5; distinctiveness, 10.

In judging Displays of Roses.—Artistic arrangement and effect, 60; quality, 30; variety, 10.

II. For Amateur Competitors at Rose Shows, upon Scale of Points as below.

One SILVER and two BRONZE MEDALS may be given upon specific and timely application to affiliated local rose societies, to be awarded as special American Rose Society prizes at their annual exhibitions.

American Rose Society medals may be furnished to unaffiliated societies holding bona-fide public rose shows as follows:

One SILVER MEDAL and one BRONZE MEDAL may be furnished if there are not less than ten members of the American Rose Society in the community in which the rose show is held.

One BRONZE MEDAL may be furnished if there are not less than five members of the American Rose Society in the community in which the rose show is held.

The preceding offers are made on condition that the Secretary of the American Rose Society has authorized such awards and provided that the judging at the show is conducted according to the rules of the American:Rose Society as herewith published.

At every rose show in America, the American Rose Society offers a prize of one year's membership in the Society.

The awarding of the medals and membership offered by the American Rose Society must be reported within 30 days after the awards have been made.

All correspondence regarding exhibitions and the reports of awards should be addressed to the Secretary's Office, The American Rose Society, West Grove, Pa.

State Vice-Presidents for 1931

Appointed by the Executive Committee

In spite of modern facilities for rapid communication, and in addition to the inspiration and assistance afforded rose-growers by correspondence between the members and officers of the American Rose Society, there is, undoubtedly, a great need and a great opportunity for an increase in interest, information, and stimulating exchange of views and experiences among members of the Society who are also closely related geographically.

Experience has taught the officers that there is much to be gained by the membership when the personal relations of members with each other grow to be more intimate. The opportunity to visit rose-gardens of fellow members of our national organization and to hold occasional meetings on the subject of their favorite flower, makes possible an added value to membership. Such activities naturally call for leadership. Below will be found a list of those who have agreed to act as State Vice-Presidents or District Secretaries for the year 1931, who hold themselves ready to be of such assistance as may be possible, and through whom the national officers may frequently hope to develop opportunities for greater service than in the past.

If you are so fortunate as to live in any districts covered by the points listed below, it is hoped that you will not hesitate to get in touch with your leader to make suggestions and to coöperate when opportunity offers in the matter of rose events for mutual delight.

The American Rose Quarterly

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN ROSE SOCIETY
Secretary's Office, West Grove, Pa.

Entered as second-class matter March 31, 1930, at the Post Office at West Grove, Pa. under the act of March 3, 1879

VOL. II JUNE, 1931 No. 2

The Annual Meeting—and Many Other Meetings

WITH commendable pride this June Quarterly is sent to the members of the American Rose Society, in the hope that they will make full use of the matters of real rose importance found in these pages.

In the first place, attention is called to the Annual Meeting as hereafter fully announced. It includes the necessary perfunctory business session, taking in fact but a few minutes. Much more important is the opportunity for rose discussion as presented by the tentative programme, to be modified if sufficient answers are made on the prepaid card enclosed suggesting questions to be discussed.

Almost more important than this is the fact that this Annual Meeting occurs in connection with the dedication of an addition to the E. M. Mills Rose Garden in Thornden Park, Syracuse. The American Rose Society participated in the original dedication of this splendid garden, which has been so successful that extensions have been found necessary.

Then comes a rose-garden dedication at Auburn and a visit to one of the greatest rose nurseries in the world, with various attractive lunch and conference meetings between, so that at least two days of joyous and beneficial rose association can be included in this annual pilgrimage.

In fairness to the hosts who will look after us, prompt return ought to be made on the prepaid card enclosed which also carries the opportunity to ballot for the officers of the Society.

Attention is called with all vigor to the impressive and inspiring list of rose-gardens open to members, as presented beginning on page 7. Here are 122 gardens in which it may be expected that beautiful roses will be blooming about the dates stated, and the growing rose spirit of America will be advanced as members visit these gardens.

Taking into account the municipal rose-garden dedications above mentioned, the list of municipal and other public rose-gardens beginning on page 12 is inspiring. With the right sort of attention it can be doubled for another year, and vast civic advantages of the rose in the life of the people made more effective.

In due course will be found the financial statement for the current year, indicating the wholesome condition of the Society's finances. It should not be lost sight of that this condition is possible only because of contributions of time and office facilities by the officers, which if charged for and collected from members would require at least double the dues now exacted.

Members are asked to get members. Rose-love breeds rose-love. The possession of a growing rose ought always to be an invitation to bring someone else to see it and have them as soon as possible begin with roses.

The publication during the year of "What Every Rose-Grower Should Know," hailed as the most effective, accurate, terse, and vital series of simple rose-growing directions ever published, marked a large advance for the rose in America. With this in hand failure with roses is made much more difficult. No one need miss success and the joys that go with it. This fine little book will do beneficent work on new friends who may become members.

The Editor writes with enthusiasm born of his experiences in rose visiting over much of the United States, and especially during the months of March and April in southern California. He has not only seen roses there to admire, but rose people to admire also. The contacts were with rose-minded friends and in rose-minded cities. The example set cannot fail to be emulated.

The rose has been considerably "on the air" since our last Annual Meeting because of the belief of the National Broadcasting Company that rose information is properly educational. Members who ask their near-by broadcasting stations for more rose help will contribute toward continuing the effort.

The new Membership List in this Quarterly will tell quickly and easily who and where are your rose friends. Do not neglect them!

As these words are written in late May, it would seem that eastern America is off to a magnificent rose start for bloom and beauty. California and the South are in the midst of a great rose season. Our friends in the Pacific Northwest will doubtless report the same conditions of rose prosperity. As we all work together toward "A Rose for Every Home, A Bush for Every Garden" we can assure for ourselves fine pleasures and high aspirations for our fellow men.

Come to the Annual Meeting if possible. It is surely possible to meet rose friends in some one of the open gardens. Enjoy roses; they are "good for you"!

Mrs. Moses Lyman, of Longmeadow, Mass., reports that members of several clubs in that vicinity are going to plant extra roses in celebration of the 200th Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington, our first President.

Fred E. Bruce, D.S., of Cleveland, reports a wonderfully fine new institution promoted and supported by the Cleveland Garden Club, Mrs. W. G. Mather, President. It is called "The Garden Center," a finely equipped building in Wade Park near Euclid Ave. An expert garden planner and adviser and an assistant are on duty. All advice is free. Prominent speakers give lectures free to all, and there is a fine library, etc. This is a project which could be emulated by many garden clubs and local Rose Societies with great benefit to their respective communities.

Rose-Gardens Open to Members

A FINE OPPORTUNITY—USE IT

THE following members have graciously offered the hospitality of their gardens to other members of the Society, to the date of revising this list, May 18, 1931. The names are listed alphabetically by state or province, and city. Following the members' names are given the street address, best and shortest routes to follow, the number of rose bushes in the garden, the time of year when the garden should be at its best, and the hour of day when the owner is most likely to be at home. Needless to say, advance notice, either by mail or telephone, will be welcomed, especially if the visiting party is large; but in most cases the members are willing to have fellow rose friends call in their absence and without notice. It is hoped that large use will be made of these opportunities.

Municipal and Other Public Rose-Gardens

NINETY municipal rose-gardens are now on the A. R. S. Roster, a notable increase over last year. Members are requested to send to the Secretary correct and complete details in regard to any municipal rose-garden within their knowledge, not listed below, and to notify him if any errors appear in the information given here.

Municipal rose-gardens have a potential value as centers of enjoyment and inspiration for the residents of a community and for the visitors they attract. It has been found by experience that there is no feature of a public park system that attracts more people or pays so well in proportion to the cost.

The establishment of a municipal rose-garden is now considered of great importance. Progressive cities are quick to realize the value of such a garden and many are endeavoring to provide such a valuable feature. If your community does not already possess one, do you not wish to use your influence to promote the establishment of a municipal rose-garden?

READ THIS LIST AND BE PROUD!

ALABAMA: BIRMINGHAM. Rose-garden containing about 3,000 roses. This rose-garden was established not only for the beautiful display of roses but for the benefit of the people in this community, showing varieties, growth, and all such information as would be helpful to small home-owners. R. S. Marshall, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation.

*CALIFORNIA: FRESNO. Large municipal rose-garden being made in Roeding Park. P. M. Rasmussen, City Forester.

*CALIFORNIA: LOS ANGELES. Five-acre rose-garden in Exposition Park that contains approximately 15,000 plants. Pergola erected in one corner to be devoted exclusively to the display of Van Fleet type roses. J. J. Hassett, Secretary, Department of Parks, 225 City Hall.

CALIFORNIA: MONTEREY. Rose-garden established near center of the city, contains about 1,400 roses. Steel fencing surrounds the garden, against which evergreens are planted. Entrances are adorned with a series of metal arches covered with climbing roses. Scheme for planting rose bushes is based on the massing of colors as far as possible. In the center is a sunken lily-pool, approached by concrete steps and surrounded by standard roses. At its best in May. Open every day from 8 to 5. (1928 Annual.) Francis E. Lester, 224 Laine St.

☛ Every endeavor is made to keep this list accurate. Reports of errors in it will be thankfully noted by the Secretary.

☛ The Secretary also will welcome suggestions as to possible members. Send him a list of your friends who would be advantaged by the American Rose Society and he will promptly invite them, with or without reference to the nominating member.

Honor Roll of Commercial Members

☛ The names following include the horticultural tradesmen who recognize the value to them of the American Rose Society by paying the commercial rose members' fee. Their support is thankfully appreciated—they are helping to make the rose universal in America.

VOL. II SEPTEMBER, 1931 No. 3

IT HAS been a great rose season. Almost everywhere roses were good; even now, with the thermometer in the 90's three days out of four, we can cut good roses at Breeze Hill. Many explanations have been offered why we should be so especially favored this year. All reasons seem to be good and all seem to be insufficient.

The early weeks of June were hectic days for the President-Editor and his assistant. Breeze Hill Gardens were never so fine, and what with trying to keep up with the roses and to meet all the interesting and delightful visitors who came to see both us and the roses, there were not enough hours in the day or days in the week. Hundreds of visitors came, some merely to see the roses, others to compare notes, and a few to make a careful study of new varieties. The great flush of bloom had scarcely subsided at Breeze Hill when a round of rose-events began in different parts of the country which the President-Editor attended.

As we shuffle through the material on the desk, we find a program and invitation to the dedication of the Allentown Municipal Rose Garden, Allentown, Pa., Saturday, June 20, and our memory goes back to one of the most intensely hot afternoons in the memory of man, when Dr. McFarland, Secretary Robert Pyle, and various officials of the city of Allentown sizzled for two hours on a platform hot as a griddle in the middle of the new Allentown Rose Garden, while the proper words were being said to dedicate it to the use of the people. The Allentown Rose Garden is a noble gesture, scarcely a year old from the date of its inception, but it was full of beautiful roses on that withering day and gave every indication of becoming a successful addition to the park facilities of the city.

Then we take up various notes, newspaper articles, and reports concerning the meeting of the American Rose Society at Syracuse, Auburn, and Newark, June 23 and 24, which will be found amplified further on.

Here also appear letters from many quarters of the country describing the success which attended the annual rose shows wherever held. Characteristic of many of these reports is the following paragraph from J. D. Crump, Macon, Ga.:

> Our seventh Annual Spring Flower Show was held on April 30, and, in the parlance of the street, it was a "humdinger." Honestly and frankly, I doubt if there will be one held in the southeast this year that will surpass it. It was a success in every way.

From Clarence A. Davis, of Grand Island, N. Y., comes an exultant account of his success at the Syracuse Rose Show. He writes:

> This was the first time I had ever shown at a rose show, and what a kick I got out of it! I wish I could arouse enough enthusiasts in staid old Buffalo so that we could have a rose show here. It was quite an undertaking to get the roses all picked, packed, and taken to Syracuse, and yet keep them in first-class condition, but I not only won the American Rose Society Bronze Medal, but also the sweepstake prize. It was great, especially going back to my old home town.

Certainly there is food for thought in Mr. Davis's note. Who says that we cannot have rose shows in the United States? It is a fairly long jaunt from Buffalo to Syracuse. Mr. Davis not only conveyed his roses, but he conveyed them in prize-winning condition. He was not the only one, for the roses which Mr. Horvath brought from Cleveland, nearly twice as far, came through in perfect condition and were among the most beautiful in the show. It must be 500 miles from Cleveland to Syracuse, and any city which can draw roses from a radius of 500 miles ought to put on a good show. There seems to be no reason at all why we can't have a National Rose Show, except lack of energy on the part of local organizations, and the lack of effective interest on the part of exhibitors.

Farther down amongst the papers we come upon a note from Stephen F. Hamblin, Director of the Lexington Botanic Garden, who mentions that the Lexington Rose Garden of one acre is open at all times. This will be noted by the Secretary for next year's "List of Gardens Open to Visitors."

Then come a series of apologetic letters deploring the lack of announcement of a single rose-garden open in Washington, and promising much better conditions another year. In fact, a really superb rose-garden right on the edge of the Capital City was open and Dr. Whitman Cross showed many lovely roses to many rose-folks who visited him at Chevy Chase.

Amongst newspaper clippings, we are saddened by an account of the passing of a good friend, Arthur L. Hubbard, of South Bend, Ind., early this season.

Many papers and letters attest to the great doings which were held at Little Compton, R. I., on Monday, June 29, when the golden yellow climbing rose originated by Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Brownell was christened at an elaborate dedication in Mr. Brownell's garden. The new climber has been creating a mild furor amongst informed rosarians for several years, although it has never been released to commerce. The young plants distributed by Mr. Brownell came into bloom for the first time this year away from Little Compton, and show a rose of the type of Mary Wallace with the true golden yellow color so long desired. It is reported to be robust and hardy enough to withstand winters practically anywhere in North America. The name which was bestowed upon it at the dedicatory service is Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James. Arrangements have been made to put the rose into commerce, and probably it will be available in quantity in the autumn of 1932.

ROSES AND IVY

Rose-lovers are usually lovers of other plants, and, in the Editor's experience, inclined also to be peculiarly kind to plant-treasures.

Mrs. Walter Edward Harris, a devoted rosarian of Petersburg, Va., has sent to the Editor's Breeze Hill Gardens plants of the Argonne Ivy. This is a form of Hedera helix with a most interesting history.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, who was in Paris during the World War, visited the Argonne Forest immediately after the battle. As she worked her way through the forest, her foot dislodged a piece of ivy. Carrying it back to Paris, and caring for it, she was able to bring it home in good condition. Then she conceived the idea of sending a piece of it to each Gold Star Mother in America, who might place it on the grave of her son. In course of time the memorial ivy came to Mrs. John T. Wilkinson, of Petersburg, Va. As it could not conveniently be planted in the cemetery, it was given a place at the foot of a large plum tree, which it has now virtually covered, and from that plant the Breeze Hill Argonne Ivy came.

The Rose on the Air Again

THE BROADCASTS of rose-helps and suggestions which occurred in October, 1930, and again in March and April, 1931, seem to have pleased the invisible audience reached by the National Broadcasting Company. To meet the seasonable rose-needs of the autumn, the American Rose Society has again been invited to use the facilities of WJZ from New York for two successive quarter-hour periods in late September.

On September 22, 1931, at 2.30 P.M. (Daylight Saving Time), the President-Editor, Dr. McFarland, will speak over WJZ on "The Lessons of the 1931 Rose Season."

On September 29, 1931, at 2.30 P.M. (Eastern Standard Time), the Associate Editor, G. A. Stevens, will discuss "Getting a Start for 1932 Roses."

Both broadcasts will bear closely on the rose-experiences and rose-possibilities of the current year.

Members anywhere in America who will with sufficient vigor urge their convenient stations to "hook in" for these rose broadcasts can use the opportunity to best advantage. It is hoped to have many stations related to the National Broadcasting Company arrange to connect, but this depends entirely on the requests received for that service. The Editors can only do the talking; the members must arrange the listening.

The Annual Meeting

By ROBERT PYLE, Secretary

A LARGE bank-lobby "banked" with roses and crowded with rose people from Utah and Connecticut, Iowa and Virginia, and intervening states; crowds gathered outdoors and indoors to dedicate municipal rose-gardens; motor caravans through acres of roses; little knots of rose enthusiasts gathered at breakfast tables and in rose-gardens—such are glimpses of the annual meeting and pilgrimages of the American Rose Society held in central New York, June 23 and 24.

The dedication of the extension to the E. M. Mills Rose-Garden was driven into a big hotel parlor by Jupiter Pluvius, but only after everyone had faced the rain long enough to admire the fine addition to an already fine garden. Dr. McFarland delivered the dedicatory address, stressing the municipal rose-garden as not being a real expense, but rather an investment that pays great returns in good citizenship. "It is in idle time that crime flourishes; people having and enjoying a municipal rose-garden do not need police guard," said he.

Following the dedication, everybody attended the rose show of the Syracuse Rose Society in the lobby of a downtown bank. Beautiful roses smiled from tables everywhere, and, perhaps, the most interesting of all the exhibits was an outstanding group of new climbing roses derived from Rosa setigera, exhibited by M. H. Horvath, Honorary Life Member, from Mentor, Ohio. Mr. Horvath is the man who made the first Wichuraiana hybrids in America, probably in the world, as recorded in the 1929 Annual, and he seems to have advanced the rose still another step toward its ultimate perfection by introducing the hardiness of our native Setigera into beautiful new climbing varieties.

Mrs. J. A. Frank Neal's non-competitive display from her Syracuse garden was also a center of attraction for all.

One of the most interesting features of the show was a group of thirty varieties without labels, the fun being to name them correctly. Many wise heads were shaken dubiously and long over this collection of strangers.

At the meeting of the Rose Society that night, held amidst the roses of the rose show, the Secretary, reporting for the Trustees, pointed out that membership was within 59 of the total this time last year, in spite of the well-known depression, and that new memberships show a gratifying increase of 30 per cent.

He also reported that the Trustees had decided to continue the rose disease research with Cornell, and to coöperate with the Woman's Home Companion in the $1000 Municipal Rose-Garden Prize Contest.

Appreciation for President McFarland's goodwill trip to the Pacific Coast was expressed, and the meeting closed with the casting of a ballot reëlecting all the officers for one year whose terms expired in 1931.

Miss Grace Tabor, Garden Editor of the Woman's Home Companion, addressed the annual meeting on the subject of municipal rose-gardens, and a highly colorful and instructive hour was spent in listening to the answers advanced by various members to some fifty questions and topics for discussion which had been sent to them in advance.

Next day, about sixty members of the American Rose Society and the Syracuse Rose Society motored to Auburn, N. Y., where Dr. McFarland and your Secretary had the privilege of helping to dedicate the new rose-garden in Hoopes Park. Afterward, the pilgrimage visited numerous private gardens in and about Auburn, and early in the afternoon arrived at the nursery of the Jackson & Perkins Company, Newark, N. Y., where the members were conducted through impressively extensive fields of roses and rose understocks to the test-garden conducted by that great wholesale firm under the supervision of J. H. Nicolas, one of the Trustees of the American Rose Society.

Here we had the opportunity to see many imported roses not yet introduced to commerce and had our first glimpse of the flowers of the new golden climber produced by Walter D. Brownell and since named Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James. Many of us also saw for the first time in bloom the rose Vanguard, a remarkable peach-colored Rugosa hybrid of which we suspect much will be heard later.

Impressions of the Syracuse Meeting

By DR. T. ALLEN KIRK, Roanoke, Va.

IT HAS been my privilege to attend several annual meetings of the American Rose Society, and, while I have enjoyed every one of them, this last one stands out in my memory in several respects.

Driving through central New York and the Finger Lakes Region, which was new to me, on the delightfully cool summer day preceding the meeting, I was delighted with that beautiful and fertile rolling country.

Arrived at Syracuse, it was pleasant to renew old acquaintances and make new ones. The friendliness and earnestness of rose-lovers is marked and goes far toward making the meetings of the American Rose Society successful. We need more meetings, and I suggest that there be arranged regional or sectional meetings, for greater accessibility, and at which prominent rosarians take a leading part.

Next morning, the well-planned, well-cared-for, and very attractive E. M. Mills Rose Garden in Thornden Park, and the Syracuse Rose Show convinced me of the fact that Syracuse is a real rose center. The outstanding exhibit in the show, to my mind, was Mr. Horvath's display of Setigera hybrids. There was a large collection of them, the result of many years' hybridizing. They impressed me as not only very interesting, but as probably of great value, combining beauty with hardiness.

In spite of the rain, which began in mid-forenoon, the enthusiasm of the devotees of the rose was not dampened, as was evidenced by the large number who attended the dedication of the addition to the E. M. Mills Rose Garden held, perforce, in the Syracuse Hotel. The address of our President, Dr. McFarland, was timely and impressive. The business meeting in the evening was well attended and again local interest in the rose was demonstrated by the large number of members present from Syracuse and vicinity. After the election of officers was completed (the old officers being wisely retained) and the question-box disposed of, Miss Grace Tabor delivered one of the best and most interesting talks on municipal rose-gardens and the Woman's Home Companion Contest it has been my pleasure to hear at any meeting I have attended. It stands out in my memory as especially well done.

Next day was fair and warmer, and the pilgrimage was made to Auburn, with its beautiful gardens and charming and hospitable people. Here, again, there was a very apparent interest in the rose and rose-gardens. The dedication of the Auburn Rose Garden was very happily and appropriately done by our President, Dr. McFarland, and our excellent Secretary, Robert Pyle. A delightful luncheon was served by Mr. and Mrs. French.

Then the pilgrimage continued to the nursery of the Jackson & Perkins Company, at Newark, N. Y.,—or perhaps I should say from Phelps to Newark—some thousand of acres in extent. Mr. Perkins welcomed the caravan at Phelps and led it through the rose-fields. I am sorry to say that some of our rose-friends carried away some of his top soil! Perhaps I should have done likewise had I not been in the pilot car with our host. In the paper, this morning, is an account of a man who was arrested in New York City for stealing soil for his flower-pots. I hope no complaint was lodged against the American Rose Society visitors by the nursery authorities! No one deserted on account of the dust, however, and all were amply repaid after reaching Newark. At the nursery we were received by our friend and trustee, artist and scientist, J. H. Nicolas, who conducted us through the laboratory of the research department and very interestingly and instructively explained the mysteries of his work and the advances that have been made. Delightful refreshments laid the dust!

I was impressed with the beautiful country in this part of New York, the enthusiasm of the people of Syracuse and Auburn, the fine public and private gardens, the excellence of the addresses, the vastness of the Jackson & Perkins Nursery, the display of Setigera hybrids by Mr. Horvath, and the frank and open demonstration of research work by Mr. Nicolas. Altogether it was an excellent meeting, full of interest, friendliness, and pleasure. I sincerely hope the next one will be as good and that I shall be able to attend.

Portland Festival and Rose Show

By QUIMBY L. MATTHEWS, State Vice-President, Portland, Ore.

PORTLAND'S annual Rose Festival and Rose Show took place on June 11 of this year. The exhibition of roses was held in the beautiful ballroom of the Masonic Temple, just across the street from the festival center, where more than a thousand roses were in full bloom. It was one of the most beautiful and most successful shows ever staged in Portland.

Last fall, Dr. Spencer S. Sulliger made a special appeal to citizens of Portland to plant more roses. At the request of leading citizens and numerous clubs, the Union Pacific Railroad Company named its new train to Chicago the "Portland Rose." This was the occasion for the special appeal and the response was most gratifying. Thousands of roses were planted during the fall and spring, and a special class was made for the blooms at the Rose Show.

The roses in the estates class made a magnificent showing. There were hundreds of bouquets and thousands of roses besides the box exhibits and the single rose entries. But it remained for Mrs. W. C. Seachrest, an amateur rosarian, to carry off the grand sweepstakes (A. R. S. Silver Medal) with a beautiful bloom of Imperial Potentate. Mrs. Thomas Kerr won the second grand sweepstakes (A. R. S. Bronze Medal) with a fine bloom of Etoile de Hollande. The third most coveted award, the $1500 Silver Cup provided by Capt. George C. Thomas, Jr., of Beverly Hills, Calif., was won for the second time by Miss Alice R. Kendall. This was the first time that this trophy has been won more than once by the same contestant. A third award will enable Miss Kendall to retain the cup permanently.

The roses displayed by amateurs were exceptionally fine and compared favorably with the blooms in the estates class. There were a large number of sectional rose exhibits, and these were all very good. It was from one of these exhibits that the grand sweepstakes rose of Mrs. Seachrest was selected.

An elaborate ceremony, in which several hundred school children took part, also marked the week. Sunday, June 7, was set aside by the local Rosarians as Rose Day, the day on which they would pay tribute to the rose. A pageant, "Seasons of the Rose," was written for the occasion by the principal of one of the local schools, and the play was staged in the garden theatre at Washington Park, near the Royal Rosarians' rose-garden. After the ceremonies, the garden of the Royal Rosarians and the International Test-Gardens were opened to the public, and under the watchful eyes of the Royal Rosarians and Dr. Sulliger, visitors were allowed to view the beautiful roses in the gardens. It is estimated that about 10,000 people witnessed the fête and visited the gardens.

The occasion proved so successful that the Royal Rosarians have decided to set apart a day each year, during the month of June, to be known as Rose Day, on which to pay tribute to the rose.

Seattle's Autumn Show

The Seattle Autumn Show will be held September 14 and 15 at Woodland Park. Strangely enough, while the rest of the country was enjoying a remarkably fine rose season, Seattle, usually so fortunate, had the misfortune to endure a week of such very bad weather just before the date of the spring show, that it was necessary to postpone it. Consequently, the law of compensation ought to produce a grand exhibit there in September.

American Rose Society's Lantern Slides

The Executive Committee at their summer meeting authorized the preparation of two sets of lantern slides, one to be used on the Pacific Coast and one available in the East. Mrs. C. C. Derby, Chairman of the Regional Rose Conference on the Pacific Coast, at San José, will make arrangements for the use of the slides in her charge. Arrangements may be made with the Secretary of the Society at West Grove, Pa., for the use of the slides and lecture available in the East, the cost of which will be $10.00, plus charge of transportation. It is unlikely that the lecture and slides will be ready before November.

European Rose-Events

BECAUSE our new roses come mostly from Europe, the latest word on the offerings in Great Britain and the Continent is always important. Each year, American hybridizers increase their output—there were 42 roses from Canada and the United States listed and described among the 209 varieties of 1930 included in "New Roses of the World" as presented in the 1931 Annual.

Here follow accounts of various rose-events which have presented new things to the rose-world. There is always the hope that another Radiance, another Ophelia, another Mme. Edouard Herriot, may appear, wherefore we eagerly scan the descriptions, and somewhat less eagerly buy the plants!

The Bagatelle Awards

The International Jury, whose duty it is to judge the new roses in the annual contest at Bagatelle, met in the Roseraie at Bois de Boulogne on June 17. After a careful examination of 74 varieties presented for the prize, the Gold Medal of the City of Paris was awarded to the French rose, Dance of Joy, entered by M. Sauvageot of Vaire-le-Grand. It is a large, very brilliant, velvety, dark red flower.

The Gold Medal for a foreign rose was obtained by Comtesse Vandal, a vermilion rose shaded with orange-copper, produced by M. Leenders & Co., of The Netherlands.

Certificate No. 1 was given to Silvia Leyva, a Pernetiana rose from Pedro Dot, of Barcelona.

Two other Certificates were given to Maréchal Lyautey, a Hybrid Tea from Croibier of Lyons, and Souvenir de Mme. C. Chambard, a Hybrid Tea from Chambard, also of Lyons.

A fourth Certificate was awarded to a Wichuraiana hybrid, Coupe d'Or, entered by Barbier & Co., of Orleans.

Immediately afterward, the Jury examined 146 varieties offered for judging next year. Among them are 107 varieties from foreign growers, especially from German sources.

The German Rose Shows

The rose show of the Verein Deutscher Rosenfreunde this year was held at Zweibrücken, where there has been established a public rose-garden containing 50,000 plants which were in full bloom on the day of the show. Among the prize-winners at the rose show held in a near-by hall were Amulett, Johanniszauber, Johanna Tantau, and Professor Gnau.

At Sangerhausen, the public rose-garden maintained by the Verein Deutscher Rosenfreunde in conjunction with the city of Sangerhausen, where roses are held on trial in the open ground for two years, we are informed that Johanna Tantau took first place among 140 novelties, and Johanniszauber also got high premium. Amulett, although on trial only one year, received first-class premium.

National Rose Society's Summer Show

LONDON, JULY 3 AND 4, 1931

The British gardening papers for the week of July 5 teemed with reports of the great summer show at the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, July 3 and 4. All accounts agree that it was one of the finest shows of recent years. Several large tents were filled with exhibits, and one special tent was devoted to the new roses.

Her Majesty, Queen Mary, was an early visitor. Apparently, she was greatly impressed by the exhibits of roses in baskets, as she took away with her a basket each of Betty Uprichard and Else Poulsen.

Extensive trade displays by all the famous rose-growers of the British Isles attracted enormous attention, and large exhibits were found in the amateur's section of the ladies' artistic classes.

The rose, Mrs. Charles Lamplough, won the award for the best rose in the show, in both the trade and amateur sections. There were numerous new seedling roses exhibited, and awards were made to the following:

GOLD MEDAL ROSES

Colonel Sharman-Crawford. (Alex. Dickson & Sons, Ltd.) A vigorous-growing Hybrid Tea of free and bushy growth. The blooms are shapely and well formed; deep velvety crimson in the bud, the inner petals, upon opening, being rich scarlet-crimson. The blooms, which are delightfully fragrant, are carried on moderately stout stems, and the foliage is a good dark green. A distinct acquisition, and a rose which should become very popular.

Lord Lonsdale. (Alex. Dickson & Sons, Ltd.) A delightfully colored Hybrid Tea of good constitution, apparently, and of bushy habit. The blooms are of medium size, with a pronounced Tea scent, of lovely form, and bright yellow, shaded with orange in the center. Its foliage is ample and dark green, and the blooms are borne on stout stems.

Valerie. (Chaplin Bros.) A good bedding Wichuraiana-Polyantha variety with clusters of large, cream-colored flowers, of a deeper shade in the bud. It has glossy, dark green, bronze-tinted foliage and is of bushy habit.

CERTIFICATES OF MERIT

Peach Blossom. (Chaplin Bros.) A Wichuraiana-Polyantha rose which should prove popular for bedding. The semi-double flowers, about 3 inches across, are a delightful flesh-pink, and borne in large, showy trusses.

Crimson Conquest. (Chaplin Bros.) Another valuable Wichuraiana-Polyantha variety of exceptionally rich coloring. Its large blooms, borne in bold clusters, have velvety crimson-scarlet, attractively crimped petals surrounding a central cluster of bright yellow stamens. The growth is free and the foliage lustrous green.

Roxana. (Alex. Dickson & Sons, Ltd.) A strong-growing Hybrid Tea of good form and substance. The broad-petaled blooms, full-centered, are golden yellow suffused with salmon, and they are carried on erect, stout stems furnished with bold, dark green foliage.

Sir Henry Seagrave. (Alex. Dickson & Sons, Ltd.) A large, broad-petaled Hybrid Tea of stout growth, with ample rich green foliage. The blooms are shapely, compact, and pointed in the bud, the outer petals being sharply recurved, rich cream, and more yellowish in the center.

Golden Glory. (Dobbie & Co., Ltd.) A showy Hybrid Tea with large, semi-double, rich golden yellow blooms which show well against the dark green foliage.

Westfield Scarlet. (Henry Morse & Sons.) A very colorful Hybrid Tea which found many admirers. The blooms are of moderately good form, and the color is perhaps best described as scarlet-cerise.

In addition to the varieties mentioned, many other novelties were shown. Among them was Bentveld, a sport from Charles P. Kilham, of rich and pleasing color, shown by Stuart Low & Co., Enfield. Samuel McGredy & Son exhibited many novelties, some of which, like Leslie Dudley, Molly Darragh, Tom Barr, and Delightful had already received Certificates of Merit, and were staged in the hope of Gold Medals. Newcomers of note, shown by the same firm, were Picture, bright pink, flushed golden yellow, and Sir Basil McFarland, bright cerise, yellow reverse. They also showed the Polyantha, Paul Grampel, beside flowers of the pelargonium of the same name, to demonstrate the similarity of color. Chaplin Bros.' Hybrid Wichuraiana, Crimson Glow, has large, crimson-red blooms, and their Margaret Egerton, Hybrid Tea, is deep rose, suffused salmon. They also displayed Charles H. Rigg, a good bright pink Hybrid Tea, and Gartendirektor Rose, a fragrant crimson Hybrid Tea. B. R. Cant & Sons had good Hybrid Teas in Lemon Beauty, large and shapely; Lady Susan, distinct, cream shaded with rose; Princess Margaret Rose, flesh-pink, deeper colored center; and Nippy, rich creamy yellow with red-shaded reverse. Bees, Ltd., showed Daybreak, a large, semi-double yellow. D. Prior & Son had Flora Prior, a cerise-scarlet Polyantha, and Laxton Bros. again showed Violet Simpson.

National Rose Society's Show of New Roses

JULY 17, 1931, AT HORTICULTURAL HALL, LONDON

We are indebted to The Horticultural Advertiser (English) of July 22 for the following account of new roses:

The Clay Challenge Vase, presented by Clay & Son for the best new scented seedling rose of the year, was awarded to Samuel McGredy & Son for William Orr, a variety of good all-round quality. The blooms are full and shapely, glowing crimson-scarlet, with the outer petals rather paler, and strongly and sweetly scented. This Hybrid Tea has already received the National Rose Society's Certificate of Merit (1930), and has also been awarded the Society's First-Class Trial-Ground Certificate.

NEW ROSES

Shining Sun. (Samuel McGredy & Son.) A colorful Hybrid Tea, stated to be of free and bushy growth. The large, compact blooms are of rounded form, with broad, creamy yellow petals, shaded at the margins with apricot-pink.

Cheerie. (Henry Morse & Sons.) A dwarf Polyantha bedding variety, with large, semi-double, bright cerise-rose flowers, vividly colored in the bud. It is of the Else Poulsen type, of which variety it is a sport. Appears to be strong and vigorous in growth, and has a future before it.

Syringa. (R. Browning.) A fragrant climbing Wichuraiana rose of quite distinct appearance. It is free in growth and produces large trusses of pure white flowers, with a conspicuous central tuft of yellow stamens. The slight reflexing of the petals imparts a starry effect to the blooms.

July Glory. (Chaplin Bros.) A vigorous-growing Wichuraiana with compact, stiff trusses of fully double, bright cerise-pink flowers.

Loveliness. (Chaplin Bros.) Another handsome Wichuraiana variety, with large, elegant trusses of double, light rose-pink flowers. It is clean and vigorous in growth, with attractive light green foliage.

OTHER BRITISH NOVELTIES

In addition to grand vases of Aureate and Trigo, both of which have received the highest awards, Alex. Dickson & Sons, Ltd., had a richly colored Hybrid Tea in Attraction, a medium-sized bloom, very shapely in the bud, and of vivid golden yellow with an orange tint, while in another part of the hall they had grand blooms of their novelties, Lady Barnby, Barbara Richards, Flamingo, Lucie Marie, and Gladys Benskin, each of which found many admirers.

Messrs. Laxton Bros. were again in the van with Violet Simpson, which they always show in tip-top condition and in such a manner that it cannot fail to appeal, while Messrs. G. Prince (Oxford), Ltd., displayed climbing forms of Shot Silk and the Daily Mail Scented Rose.

In the fairly extensive array of novelties by Messrs. McGredy, we noted Portadown and Delightful, both of which have received Certificates of Merit, but which failed to secure the coveted Gold Medal, and they had a new Hybrid Tea of distinct promise in Portadown Sally, brilliant cerise-scarlet, gold at the base and buff reverse.

Messrs. D. Prior & Son, Ltd., displayed their dwarf Polyantha, Flora Prior, a showy variety with large cupped blooms, in color bright cerise-scarlet; Messrs. Bees, Ltd., had in Queen of Bath a golden yellow, peach-shaded Hybrid Tea; Messrs. Henry Morse & Sons made a special feature of the dwarf Polyantha Glorious Sunset, with orange blooms tipped with purplish to give a rather burnt appearance, and the Stanway Rose Gardens showed Climbing Emma Wright, and also Harlequin, a rambler with trusses of flesh-pink blossom blotched with red—far from beautiful, but no doubt appealing to those who delight in the freakish.

NEW CONTINENTAL ROSES

Three roses raised by Messrs. G. A. H. Buisman & Son, Heerde, Holland, have received Gold Medals at Saverne, France. They are Mrs. Henry Dœndels, orange-yellow shaded with salmon-pink; Earl Godard Bentinck, bright cerise shaded with orange; Baroness Forayenhoff, orange-yellow veined with reddish copper.

AUSTRALIA

At the autumn show of the National Rose Society of Victoria, held April 18 in Melbourne, Alister Clark presented the Society with two new roses: Amy Johnson, named for the young woman who flew from England to Australia, and to commemorate her landing. It is reported to be a very vigorous grower with good foliage and sweetly scented flowers of a lovely shade of pink produced continuously. The other rose, named Dividend, is a distinctly lovely rich yellow of perpetual flowering habit which holds its color well.

The Passing of a Great Horticulturist

ALL too few wealthy American citizens are interested in plants. Most of those who are specialize closely. Not often does a wealthy American both specialize and generalize.

Albert C. Burrage, who passed away on June 28, 1931, was a member of the American Rose Society who had done very much for the rose in America by constant and able support of outdoor roses.

Despite the fact that Mr. Burrage was devoted to orchids, he did do a wonderful thing with roses. Under his direct planning, preparation, and support, the late Thomas Roland made for Mr. Burrage an outdoor rose-garden at the memorable show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in Boston in the spring of 1929 which was the chief feature of an outstanding exhibition. Tens of thousands of people came to realize through this display how vast were the resources of hardy outdoor roses in America.

Mr. Burrage did notable service with the Massachusetts Horticultural Society and as a member of the Committee on Horticultural Quarantine, which has been the only heeded protestant against the excesses of Federal quarantining and plant-excluding. He was a kindly gentleman whose friends enjoyed every moment they spent in his society.

Not many will realize that Mr. Burrage was as fond of flowers in stone as he was of flowers as they grow. The writer of these words will never forget an evening spent at his home and in his museum of minerals. Here were shown favorably every available form of every important mineral, and these flowers of the earth, as they surely were, made an entrancingly beautiful display.

As a member of the American Rose Society, as a general horticulturist, and particularly as an organizing force for the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, Albert C. Burrage made outstanding contributions to the beauty of the world. His fine presence and beneficent influence will be missed.

In Memoriam: Mrs. John Wood Stewart

THOSE who have the vigorous and floriferous red rose called National Flower Guild may accept that fine rose as a memory of the splendid woman whose broad humanitarianism brought about its selection, its naming, and its distribution. In her home on Long Island, and at her winter home in Florida, Mrs. Stewart cherished roses for many years, and her correspondence about roses with the Editor was always of informed interest.

But this good lady had extraordinary humanitarian impulses. With every social opportunity to do otherwise, she followed a life of service to mankind. Traveling extensively, she acquired acquaintances in many parts of the world, which later helped her fine purposes.

In 1888 she organized the Needlework Guild of America, and five years later she founded the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild which has done, and continues to do, unique service in distributing flowers, plants, and fruits, obtained from those who have abundance, to those who have not. That beneficent organization maintains New York headquarters and does unique and most admirable work for mankind.

Mrs. Stewart organized in 1922 the Fraternity for Friendly Service, devoted particularly to the needy and the handicapped of New York City.

In 1914, Mrs. Stewart was living in Lyons, France, where she had organized a branch of her Needlework Guild. All through the war the two Guilds kept up a continued service of mercy and help where it most was needed.

That this work of a great American abroad was recognized, appeared when the Queen of England granted her a private audience. The Italian Government presented her with a medal, and in 1928 the French Government gave her the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the sixth woman to receive that great honor.

Her death, in June, 1931, did not intermit the good work she had started. It will go on, and the rose she insisted be named for her Flower Guild instead of herself will keep her memory green.

The American Rose Quarterly

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN ROSE SOCIETY
Secretary's Office, West Grove, Pa.

Entered as second-class matter March 31, 1930, at the Post Office at West Grove, Pa. under the act of March 3, 1879

VOL. II DECEMBER, 1931 No. 4

JUST after Thanksgiving Day, the Editor-President finds a reason for profound thanksgiving in the fact that he has had six months of steady rose-bloom from the Hybrid Tea roses in his own home-garden, and if the blooms of Rosa ecæ, followed by Rosa hugonis, are considered, he has had seven months of rose-bloom in 1931! No other flower has such duration, breadth of beauty, and general adaptability.

Then with the thanks given to the Great Author, he may be permitted to reach forward and wish all rose-friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Elsewhere in this Quarterly the Secretary will tell about the lantern slides now made available to members of the American Rose Society. While he and the Treasurer looked at a demonstration of these slides a few days ago, neither of them realized that they were the selection from nearly 5,000 rose-pictures, and that each had been lovingly and carefully colored by workers who knew the roses. Properly used, this collection of a hundred lantern slides, either with the words in the accompanying manuscript or with the better words a thoughtful and acquainted local rose-grower could provide, will give help and entertainment anywhere in America.

The National Broadcasting Company has again been good to the American Rose Society. We are to have a chance again to tell about roses on the air from either WJZ or WEAF, some time during March. The dates cannot yet be accurately given. Meanwhile, those who are really interested can help if they will urge their local stations to hook up for these broadcasts.

Operating the American Rose Society is a pleasant but thankless task, because no salaries are paid. It is only because of the free services gladly given by the officers that it is possible for members to be kept on the front line of rose-advance. These members can show their appreciation in several ways. The first way is by prompt renewal of membership when the bill comes. The Editor-President would like to see the Secretary swamped with these renewals, saving the expense of "follow-ups" because of postponement or forgetfulness. The membership has kept up marvelously and is now almost precisely equal to that of a year ago.

There is no way to make so sure that a rose-friend is going to have beautiful roses as to get him into the American Rose Society. He ought to come with his own money, for that is better money than gift money, but a gift membership is almost certain to start another center of rose-advance. The Secretary's provision tells how to do all this at a low cost.

Special note needs to be taken of the new affiliation relation. If a Garden Club or other flower organization will come into the American Rose Society as a sustaining member at $10, it is provided not only with all the publications but also has at its command one Silver Medal and two Bronze Medals for use at such shows as it may sponsor relating to the rose. (To win an American Rose Society medal is the highest honor in rose-growing.) Further, this affiliated society can do itself a favor as it sends in five or more new members, retaining for itself $1 of the $3.50 membership fee for each. No surer way exists to promote rose-interest than thus to tie in with the American Rose Society and its active membership facilities.

This word "active" is used designedly, for that is what the American Rose Society is. A letter came to the Editor from a far-off state the other day which began—"For years, it seems, rose-lovers have been telling you their troubles, and I hope you can help me." The help was instantly given. It is that sort of an organization, for between the officers and the Committee of Consulting Rosarians warm bands of rose-fellowship bind together the real rose-lovers in America.

Very much on the Editor's heart for 1932 is the establishment of municipal rose-gardens. "A rose for every home; a bush for every garden" is our motto. Some homes have no ground for the bush, but every community has a place in which the collective beauty of the rose can be enjoyed by all.

Regional Conference of Central Pacific District

By FRANCIS E. LESTER

COMFORTABLY seated before a roaring fire in the beautiful lounge of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, the surf of the Pacific sounding faintly in the distance, four score rosarians of the Central Pacific Coast Regional Conference held, on the evening of October 3, an informal discussion on "What Constitutes a Good Rose." Dr Emmet Rixford, of San Francisco, was master of ceremonies, skilfully directing the discussion, led by more than a half-dozen speakers, to the most practical ends. The informality of the occasion and its delightful setting were ideal.

Perhaps this was the outstanding event of the third, and most successful Rose Conference of this Division. Members of the American Rose Society from far and near attended, and the conference was full of enthusiasm and earnest accomplishment.

A rose show, moderate in size but of unusual charm, was held October 3 and 4 in the historic Old Custom House of Monterey, that served under the flags of Spain, Mexico, and the United States—the first rose show to be held under its roof. Baskets and vases filled the black-covered tables, and among them was a large bouquet of the new Olympiad, sent by airplane for the occasion from Southern California. More than 100 varieties of roses were shown, many in competition for the awards of pewter vases and flower-baskets. Golden Emblem and J. Otto Thilow led in the competitive exhibits. A unique feature was a comprehensive exhibit of old roses, displayed attractively in an adjoining room, the entrance to which bore the notice

YE OLDE ROSES

"God Gave Us Memory
That We Might Have Roses in December"

and here were found such choice old blooms as the Castilian Rose, Rêve d'Or, Lamarque, Yellow Banksia, Mme. Lambard, Hermosa, and many others, surrounded by the permanent exhibit in the room of mementos of the old days of Monterey when Spain ruled the territory and Father Junipero Serra founded the California missions. The show was attended for two days and nights by a throng of interested visitors.

At the business session of the Conference, held after luncheon on the 3d, reports presented and discussed included those from the committees on the Old and on the New Roses. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. Charles C. Derby, Chairman (re-elected); Mrs. Will C. Bogen, Secretary; Dr. Charles Adams, Treasurer (re-elected). It was decided to hold the Spring Conference at Napa, Calif., upon the invitation of the delegation in attendance from that enthusiastic center of rose-activity.

On the night of October 3 more than 60 American Rose Society members and their invited guests sat down to the Rose Dinner, delightfully served at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, situated in the pines by the sea, adjournment being taken later for the coffee and rose-discussion already referred to. Following the discussion, an address on "Spanish Gardens" was delivered by Leslie E. Kiler, of Palo Alto. It was decided that the subject for the rose-discussion at the Spring Conference would be "How Can We Have a Beautiful Rose-Garden Every Day in the Year?"

Meetings of the third Conference were presided over by its active Chairman, Mrs. Charles C. Derby. Great credit for the local arrangements that insured the success of the conference is due to those active workers of the American Rose Society, Mrs. Will C. Bogen, local chairman for the Conference, Mrs. Harding, and Mrs. Lester. The many rosarians in attendance from San José, some with splendid exhibits, gave loyal aid, while the presence and counsel of that famous rosarian, Dr. Emmet Rixford, added to the charm of the two-day meeting.

☛ Members of the American Rose Society may yet obtain "Modern Roses" from the Secretary at the special price of $4, postpaid. (Publisher's price, $5.) This volume is a necessity to every live rose-lover. It is the world gazetteer of the rose, with its 2511 accurate descriptions of every rose in world commerce. Every club library needs this unique volume.

The Seattle Rose Society

FROM the Secretary of the Seattle Rose Society, Mrs. H. R. Beatty, comes a report of the First Divisional Rose Conference on May 12.

"On that day our society had the pleasure of acting as host to rosarians from Oregon, British Columbia, and the state of Washington. An all-day and evening session was held. Prominent rosarians heard during the day were Frank C. Riggs, Portland, Ore.; G. F. Middleton, Seattle; Dr. S. S. Sulliger, Tacoma; Ronald Gamwell, Bellingham; Dr. Hiram DePuy, Tacoma; H. L. Collier, Seattle; and the evening speaker was Mr. Quinby Matthews, of Portland, Ore."

Because of the unsatisfactory weather conditions, the annual rose show of the Seattle Rose Society, was postponed until September 14 and 15. The Rev. Earl William Benbow, President of the Seattle Rose Society, tells us:

"It was a great success. The blooms were not quite equal to the spring prize-winners, but it was an agreeable surprise to everyone that the fall array could be of such proportions and truly high quality. The Seattle Park Board coöperated splendidly with quantities of roses from their municipal rose-garden, filling every section to overflowing with lovely blooms freshly cut the morning of the show. Most expressive of the spirit that may be found among rose-lovers was Dr. Hiram DePuy's bringing a truck-load of blooms from the Metropolitan Park Gardens of Tacoma and staging a section that would not be outrivaled during June. The local Society is under a real debt of loving gratitude to this spirit of rose-fellowship. The prizes and trophies were generous and well distributed among the amateurs. Mrs. Robert Wallace won first place for best rose in the show and was awarded the sweepstakes trophy for a beautiful flower of Golden Gleam. Mrs. Frances Billings won the silver medal with Angèle Pernet, and I won third best rose in the show with President Herbert Hoover. I think the latter rose, as grown by Mrs. T. F. Murphy, and at its best on the second day of the show, was the finest thing in the exhibit. We are sure there are going to be many more President Hoover roses grown next spring because of the fine blooms of that variety on exhibit."

The President's Organization on Unemployment Relief

WALTER S. GIFFORD, Director

THE President's Organization on Unemployment Relief, through its Committee on Coöperation with National Groups and Associations, is seeking to mobilize the personnel of all organizations behind unified community efforts to meet the relief problem incident to widespread unemployment this coming winter.

No fund is being raised by the President's Organization. Its task is to lend all possible nation-wide support to local efforts to provide funds needed for relief, and for those other highly important community activities in the interest of health, recreation, character-building; and to assist in all practicable ways in seeing that available resources are so administered as to enable those receiving assistance to retain their self-respect and self-reliance.

With all groups in a community joining in a common effort, duplication and confusion will be avoided and the best results achieved in the interest of the locality as a whole.

Members of the American Rose Society have always sought to make their own communities more attractive. In the present emergency they can best fit into the general picture by joining with other groups in their immediate localities, each doing his or her part as citizen and neighbor, and the task ahead of us will be accomplished in every community throughout the country.

National Rose Society's Autumn Show

Extract from The Times, London, September 19, 1931

THE National Rose Society's autumn show, which is being held in the Royal Horticultural Society's hall in Greycoat-street, Westminster, opened yesterday afternoon. In spite of the weather there was a very fine display, and the number of exhibits from both nurserymen and amateurs appeared to be greater than last year. The quality was also much better than could be expected after such a sunless season, and one could well understand the astonishment of an American lady who was heard to inquire, 'How do you manage to get such fine roses after such a summer as you have had?' As is usual at the autumn show, there were very few new varieties, but three of those shown received Certificates of Merit.

In the leading class for nurserymen, which called for a representative group of cut roses on a frontage of 25 feet, there were eight exhibits, and the first prize went to Messrs. Alexander Dickson & Sons, who had an excellent display arranged almost entirely in baskets. In the center was the maize-yellow Barbara Richards, backed by the brilliant cerise Flamingo and flanked by Emma Wright (orange) and Shot Silk (cerise shaded orange). There were also splendid baskets of Mme. Butterfly (pink shaded apricot), K. of K. (scarlet-crimson), Duchess of Atholl (orange), Dame Edith Helen (glowing pink), and the new Trigo (yellow tinted cerise). Another exceptionally fine group of first-class blooms came from Messrs. S. McGredy & Son, who gave prominence to a handsome basket of the coppery orange-red Mrs. Sam McGredy. They also showed excellent stands of Margaret McGredy (vermilion), Mabel Morse (yellow), and McGredy's Ivory, and charming baskets of K. of K., McGredy's Yellow, Dainty Bess, and Mme. Butterfly. A good stand of the pink-and-yellow small-flowered climbing variety, Phyllis Bide, was a feature of a very representative collection shown by Messrs. B. R. Cant & Sons, who also had especially good displays of Dazla (orange-scarlet with golden base), Mrs. Beatty (yellow), Ophelia (pink), and Essence (crimson). The single-flowered Hybrid Teas Else Poulsen (rose-pink) and Kirsten Poulsen (cherry-red) were attractively shown by the Stanway Rose Gardens; and Messrs. Waterer, Sons & Crisp had fine baskets of Betty Uprichard (coppery rose), Phyllis Bide, Dainty Bess, Emma Wright (orange), and Mrs. Charles Lamplough (lemon-chrome).

In the nurserymen's class for a group of cut roses on a frontage of 15 feet the best of eight exhibits was a very beautiful display of splendid blooms staged by Mr. C. Gregory. A wonderful basket of Mrs. Sam McGredy, over 4 feet across, at once attracted attention, and there was also an excellent basket of Mrs. George Geary (orange-cerise shaded red) and first-class stands of Else Poulsen, Emma Wright, Gloria Mundi (scarlet-orange), Dame Edith Helen, and Marcia Stanhope (white). Messrs. R. Harkness & Co., who gave prominence to the carmine-pink Mrs. A. R. Barraclough, had the vivid scarlet Allen Chandler and the fragrant carmine-pink Zephirine Drouhin. An admirable basket of Dame Edith Helen and particularly good stands of Julien Potin (yellow),

Christine (yellow), and Flamingo were shown by Messrs. D. Prior & Son. The glowing terra-cotta Peter Pan was a feature of the exhibit from Messrs. Wheatcroft Bros., and Messrs J. and A. Bentall had the single yellow Mermaid and a selection of their Hybrid Musk varieties such as Pax (white), Vanity (rose-pink), and Fortuna (soft pink).

The third nurserymen's class, which required a group of cut roses on a frontage of 10 feet, produced no fewer than ten exhibits. The first prize went to Messrs. H. Morse & Sons, who had especially good examples of Lady Inchiquin (pink suffused with orange) and Covent Garden (deep crimson). Messrs. Austin and McAslan, who were placed second, had first-class blooms of Barbara Richards and Mrs. A. R. Barraclough.

ROSES IN FRUIT

A class which interested many people was that for vases of five distinct kinds of roses in fruit. The first prize was won by Mr. J. C. Allgrove, who had Rosa moyesi, R. moyesi fargesi, R. rugosa, R. pomifera, and R. setipoda. The most instructive exhibit of rose-hips was, however, a non-competitive exhibit from the National Rose Society's new trial-grounds at Hayward's Heath. It included many uncommon species, such as R. gigantea, R. hirtula, and R. elegantula; an unnamed species with congested bunches of fruits, sent from China by Hers as No. 2370; and the hybrid R. spæthiana.

NEW ROSES

Of the new roses which received certificates of merit the most attractive was one called Charles H. Rigg, shown by Messrs. Chaplin Brothers. The color was rich rose-pink on a yellow ground, and the flower was well formed, but not very fragrant. The other two were McGredy's Gem (rose passing to yellow at the base), shown by Messrs. S. McGredy & Son, and Ruby Mainwaring, a vermilion-crimson sport of Betty Uprichard shown by Messrs. G. Longley & Son. The Stanway Rose Gardens showed a climbing form of Emma Wright, but one could not assess its merits properly because, although the plant exhibited was vigorous, it was not in bloom.

The Editors are impressed by the attention thus paid to roses by one of the leading newspapers of the world.

A ROSE ON THE HIGHWAY

A very delightful little prose poem, which is also an interesting story, is published under this title by Miss M. H. Leavis, North Cambridge, Mass. The Editors cannot think of any Christmas card more pleasing than this would be. Anyone who is interested can secure the booklet, which is 3¼ x 5¾ inches, in 12 pages, printed in two colors, by sending a dime to the address given. Not many copies, we are told, remain available.

Reviews of Books and Pamphlets

A Group of Tetraploid Roses in Central Oregon, by Eileen Whitehead Erlanson. Reprinted for private circulation from the Botanical Gazette, Vol. 91, No. 1, March, 1931.

In this pamphlet, Dr. Erlanson continues her investigation into the behavior of rose chromosomes, a brief account of which she published in the American Rose Annual for 1930. The present effort is devoted to discussing more or less obscure rose species—Rosa durandii, R. myriadenia, R. yainacensis, R. delitescens, R. brownii, R. calavera, R. pinetorum, R. muriculata. The pamphlet would chiefly interest people who are undertaking genetical studies; it seems to have little value for the practical rose-grower or breeder. (Dr. Erlanson is preparing for the 1932 Annual a paper on America's native roses.)

Chromosome Organization in Rosa. Reprinted from Cytologia, International Journal of Cytology, Vol. 2, No. 3, pages 256–282; published June 15, 1931, in Tokio.

This is a detailed study of chromosome behavior, copiously illustrated with diagrams and drawings. A great deal of scientific information concerning rose chromosomes is included in this pamphlet. It will chiefly interest those who have studied the theories of Major Hurst published in the National Rose Society's Annual of 1929, and discussed by Dr. Erlanson on page 91 of the 1930 American Rose Annual. The conclusion of Dr. Erlanson's report indicates that Dr. Hurst's theories are untenable.

Development of Brown Canker of Roses, by Anna E. Jenkins. Reprinted from the Journal of Agricultural Research, Vol. 42, No. 5, Washington, D. C., March 1, 1931, pages 293–299.

This pamphlet continues the investigation of brown canker of roses which Miss Jenkins reported in the American Rose Annual for 1927. Among its numerous illustrations is one in color showing characteristic forms of brown canker, and many black and white illustrations of diseased stems, buds, and foliage. A careful perusal of Miss Jenkins' latest report does not discover any new method of treating the disease. It seems to be merely an elaboration of previous statements and more detailed explanations of what brown canker is.

Gloeosporium Rosæ, a Nomen Nudum, by Anna E. Jenkins. Reprinted from Mycologia, Vol. 23, No. 3, May–June, 1931.

A two-page pamphlet dealing with the horrific name of a rose disease which it seems does not exist, for which Te Deum laudamus!

The California Rosarian, Vol. 2, No. 10, October, 1931.

We always enjoy reading about the rose activities of the California Rose Society published month to month under the editorship of Forrest L. Hieatt, its president. This number carries a carefully written review of the San Diego show, which was evidently a most attractive and noteworthy event, although the autumn flowers were not up to the spring standard. The successful outcome of the Regional Rose Conference at Monterey was reported by Mrs. Derby, and J. A. Armstrong contributed a thoughtful survey of a good many new roses grown in California this season.

THE AUSTRALIAN ROSE ANNUAL, 1931, issued by the National Rose Societies of Victoria, New South Wales, and South Australia; edited by T. A. Stewart, Melbourne.

We are full of admiration for this fourth number of the Australian Rose Annual, which runs to 155 well-packed pages and has a considerable number of illustrations, including several beautifully colored pictures of new roses from England. For those whose interest lies in rose diseases, a thorough discussion of rose-wilt and die-back is undertaken by B. J. Grieve, M. Sc., University of Melbourne. Alister Clark, that hybridizer of many delightful roses, discusses perfumed roses and lists the following varieties which are strongly scented:

Laurent Carle, Ruhm von Steinfurth, Marquise Litta de Breteuil, Hector Mackenzie, Mme. Pierre Euler, Kapitän von Müller, Mme. Isaac Pereire, William Francis Bennett, Mrs. W. C. Whitney, Exquisite, Crusader, William Askew, Mons. Desir, Mrs. John Laing, Etoile de France, Mme. Ferdinand Jamin (called in America, American Beauty), Noella Nabonnand, Député Dubussy, Australian Beauty, Frank W. Dunlop, Marquise de Ganay, H. F. Eilers, Ma Fiancée, Mrs. Tom Smith, Georg Arends, Priscilla, Templar, Commonwealth, and many others.

He goes on then to ask—

Why are the following roses not grown by those who demand scent as essential?—Socrates, Maréchal Niel, Mme. Maurice de Luze, Lady Maureen Stewart, Oskar Cordel, Edgar M. Burnett, Johanna Sebus, King of Siam, Mevrouw Dora van Tets, Mrs. David Jardine, Souv. de la Malmaison, Bona Weillschott, Frau Rose Benary, Richmond, Aurora, Zephirine Drouhin, Bischof Dr. Korum, Pink Rover, Conrad F. Meyer, Ards Rover, and Edward Mawley? It must be that scent is not considered to balance other slight defects, and they pass out. Zephirine Drouhin is indeed a gem amongst scented roses, but sadly neglected, perhaps from want of size. Sweet roses like Papa Lambert and Mrs. George Norwood are shelved on account of poor growth; Souvenir of Wootton, Princess Bonnie, Ma Tulipe. and Gloire des Rosomanes for want of shape, yet no roses are sweeter.

Having named some of the sweetest roses which are not cherished by those who claim they value scent above all else, he directs attention to numerous other perfumed varieties:

Etoile de Hollande, La France, Bardou Job, Mrs. Warren E. Lenon, Columbia and all its sports, Lady Helen Maglona, Freifrau Ida von Schubert, Dame Edith Helen, America, Miss C. E. van Rossem, The General, Daily Mail Scented Rose, Gruss an Teplitz, Ophelia and all its sports, Premier, Shot Silk, Château de Clos Vougeot, Imperial Potentate, Mrs. Bryce Allan, Pink Pearl, Hugh Dickson, Earl Haig, Florence Haswell Veitch, Walter C. Clark, Gustav Grünerwald, Mrs. Edward Powell, Crimson Emblem, Mme. Alfred Carrière, Yves Druhin, Florex, and Luise Lilia.

To these he adds a special list of scented American roses:

General MacArthur, Richmond, Rhea Reid, Mrs. Charles E. Russell, Hadley, Hoosier Beauty, Mrs. Henry Winnett, Red Radiance, Sensation, and Royal Red are indeed a goodly company of reds, all fully scented. Amongst pinks we get Columbia and all its sports and descendants, Felicity, Mrs. Warren E. Lenon, America, Pilgrim, Radiance, Rose Marie, Victor, Florex, and Imperial Potentate. We also get Premier, Templar, Commonwealth, and Senator, fully scented, if not as bright as we could wish.

And another group of similar Australian varieties:

Australia Felix, Loretto, Countess of Stradbroke, Borderer, Milkmaid, Sweet Seventeen, Queen of Hearts, Amy Johnson, Australian Beauty, Mrs. Albert Nash, Southern Cross, Mrs. Harold Brookes, Joyce Fairy, Golden Dawn, and May Alexander Lippiatt and Firebrand from New Zealand.

Other pages of the Annual are taken up by a discussion of new roses by Mr. Hazlewood, and the Editor publishes an intensely interesting and valuable record of all varieties raised in Australia which we hope some time to be able to reproduce in the American Rose Annual.

AVAILABLE LANTERN SLIDES

The American Rose Society has had prepared a set of about 100 lantern slides. These slides, all carefully and accurately colored, represent the rose all over America, as shown in gardens both public and private. Many new varieties are separately illustrated, and also details of planting and spraying. No more comprehensive and beautiful rose views for projection are available anywhere.

Members of the American Rose Society can secure the use of these lantern slides upon timely application to the Secretary. Three to four weeks' notice should be given, in order to avoid disappointment. The slides are shipped in a rugged carrying-case, and are carefully packed. As users are liable for breakage, it is obviously important to pack carefully for the return trip immediately after the slides have been used.

The charge for use is $10, plus carrying charges both ways. Whether shipped by mail or express, a valuation or insurance of $250 must always be placed on the shipment. An extra charge of 50 cents per day will follow retention of the set beyond the day arranged for. Each use is subject to the $10 charge.

A carefully prepared lecture will accompany the slides, though it is believed better results will follow if the user studies the slides and speaks of them to fit local conditions in his own language. Further details, if necessary, can be had by addressing the Secretary, Robert Pyle, West Grove, Pa.

A special set of slides has been presented to California members. Application for these may be made to Mrs. Charles C. Derby, Route C, San José, Calif.

AMATEUR TURNS "PRO"

Rose progress in America took a long step forward on October 15 last, when R. Marion Hatton, well-known rosarian of Providence and President of the Rhode Island Horticultural Society, deserted the ranks of the amateurs to add his abundant knowledge and critical rose judgment to the organization of the Conard-Pyle Company of West Grove, Pennsylvania. Mr. Hatton's keen comments on roses in the Annual and elsewhere have been valued by American Rose Society members for many years, and the Conard-Pyle Company is to be congratulated on securing for its benefit the services of a man so eminent and respected in the rose world.

We understand that as a part of his new duties Mr. Hatton will carry forward the effort begun by the Conard-Pyle Company to discover and develop new roses of value, and we do not hesitate to extend to him the best wishes of the Society for success and happiness in his new vocation.

$100 for a Rose Name

JACKSON & PERKINS COMPANY, wholesale growers of roses, will disseminate, in the fall of 1932 a climbing rose which they expect to prove tremendously popular. For the best name suggested for this rose they will pay $100.

Rules.—The contest is open now; it closes midnight December 31, 1931. No person connected with Jackson & Perkins Company may compete. An argument of not more than fifty words should be submitted to support each name; in case of tie, the final award will be based on the reasoning of the argument. Each entry must be made on a form provided for the purpose.

Description.—The new rose is a hardy scarlet climbing rose, a seedling of Paul's Scarlet Climber X Gruss an Teplitz. Flowers are very similar to Paul's Scarlet in form and color, and delicately perfumed. The plant blooms with the continuity of Gruss an Teplitz, and is more vigorous than Paul's Scarlet. It may be used on any support requiring a tall climber.

Name.—The name should be impersonal (one or two words), preferably descriptive; it may denote brightness, the everblooming or climbing feature, and, above all, it should be adaptable for publicity purposes. It may be a coined word.

Judges.—The judges will be Dr. J. Horace McFarland, President of the American Rose Society; Richardson Wright, Vice-President of the American Rose Society; Leonard Barron, Trustee of the American Rose Society; Chesla C. Sherlock, Garden Editor of the Ladies Home Journal; Miss Grace Tabor, Garden Editor, Woman's Home Companion. Their decision in all matters will be final.

Entry blanks may be secured on request.

All entries will be given careful consideration.

Executive Committee Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held in Harrisburg, November 20, 1931. Those present were: President, J. Horace McFarland; Treasurer, S. S. Pennock; Secretary, Robert Pyle. Richardson Wright sent his salutations.

The President-Editor reported the December Quarterly almost ready for press, subject to the inclusion of final items. He advised that the California lantern slides were complete and ready for shipment, and the 100 lantern slides for use east of the Rocky Mountains were almost ready. Both sets of slides were reviewed and approved.

It was agreed to provide in separate leaflets the American Rose Society's Constitution and By-Laws, Rules of Nomenclature and Registration, How to Hold a Rose Show, How to Hold a Pilgrimage, Prizes for New Roses, Loan Library Books, etc.

The plan to distribute the rose, Sentinel, the gift of Alister Clark to members of the American Rose Society, was deferred for future action.

The Treasurer reported funds available for current expenses, $4203.65. He recommended that we rejournalize the item of $2565 for 5700 primers, or "What Every Rose-Grower Should Know," paid from the Commercial Rose Interest Fund, at the close of the year by charging a part of this item against funds obtained from annual income from memberships.

The Secretary's membership report showed 59 members short of the same date a year ago, with an increase of 219 new members.

IMPORTANT SUSTAINING AND AFFILIATING MEMBERSHIP ACTION

After discussion of the views of various State Vice-Presidents, District Secretaries, and others who had objected to being obliged to obtain twenty members to take advantage of affiliation rates, it was decided that any Garden Club, Rose Society, or horticultural organization might become affiliated as a Sustaining Member Club of the American Rose Society for an annual fee of $10, and receive, in consequence, during each year of membership, one set of all publications when issued, and be entitled to offer one Silver and two Bronze Medals of the American Rose Society at local shows which they sponsor; furthermore, that under this plan of affiliation, any Sustaining Member Club may send the Secretary at one time five or more American Rose Society membership subscriptions with complete list of names and addresses, the affiliated Society retaining for its own use $1 of the $3.50 fee, remitting $2.50 per membership to the American Rose Society. Thereafter the affiliated rate for individual members is available by action of Sustaining Member Clubs, remittances for additional memberships being sent in by the local secretary. This action is effective immediately, subject to the approval of the next Annual Meeting.

Honorary membership for 1932 was granted to a representative or an executive officer (to be named by the Secretary) in the National Rose Societies of France, England, Holland, New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, in line with previous practice.

Walter D. Brownell was appointed State Vice-President for Rhode Island.

Discussion followed concerning the James Allan and John Cook Medals, both to be awarded in 1932.

The Committee agreed with the letter from Miss Tabor of October 12, outlining the basis of coöperation with the Woman's Home Companion when acting as sponsor for the $1000 Prize offered by that magazine.

A letter from Dr. L. M. Massey, Plant Pathologist at Cornell, was presented, with reference to our contract, which already covers a two-year extension, whereby the American Rose Society pays $1250 per year for the fellowship.

Dr. Massey proposed that the American Rose Society should fall in line with the usual custom at Cornell to increase the pay of a Scholar during the third year of his work by $250 per year. Since no reference had been made to the increase when the renewal of our contract was signed, the Committee agreed to split the increase of $250 and bear one-half of that, or $125.

Time and place of the next annual meeting were discussed. A telegram was read from the Southern California Divisional Rose Conference, urging the holding of the annual meeting in Southern California, coincident with the Olympic Games and other events, affording low railroad rates. The Committee agreed that it is too difficult at this time to plan ahead, in view of the impossibility of obtaining commitments from those who might be expected to attend. The Secretary reported invitations from Toronto, Rochester, Detroit, Kansas City, Philadelphia, Washington, Albany, the last five invitations appearing to be of commercial origin.

A communication from Roscoe Huff, Secretary of the American Gladiolus Society, was presented, proposing that the American Rose Society should be represented by a display of roses at the Chicago Exposition of 1933. The President was directed to form a committee, including Mr. Huff as an associate member, to present a plan at the next meeting for carrying out this idea.

The President reported work on an investigation into the extent and character of the amount of business done, and unsatisfactory results, from the marketing each season of between one and two million bench roses discarded by underglass florists. It was pointed out that some tradesmen now using these roses might be induced to recondition them sufficiently to make them satisfactory for garden use. It was also advocated that the education of the purchasing public with reference to the unsatisfactory results likely to be obtained from bench roses might combat this evil.
